Stage Door

As people of the theater enter by the side or stage door, so the performers on the SHS stage enter by the side door of the junior high school building. Starting as understudies, they gradually work up the ladder to stardom.

all the world's a stage . . .

and the SQUIB presents the drama of our school year in 1952, as we re-enact for you memorable scenes, featuring stars and
bit players.

SHELBYVILLE HIGH SCHOOL, SHELBYVILLE, INDIANA

...the stage is set

SHS students learn about the tiny world of the insect and other civilizations besides the one in which they take part. They seem to find it amazing that even the lowly insect carries on the drama of life in its own peculiar way.

SHS students occasionally have an opportunity to see first-rate dramas depicting the past and designed to help educate and prepare them for their roles as high-school students on the stage of the present and future.

Learning to make the various stage props used in both school and home productions seems to be keeping these young craftsmen occupied.

If you are a non-believer in the stories about animal and insect dramas of life, this biology lab offers conclusive proof. The participants in this biology lab experiment are dealing with the microscopic features of such dramas.

... and the drama unfolds

These apprentices not only learn how a piece of work should be done, but also apply their knowledge by turning out several useful stage props and behind-the-scenes articles.

SHS dramatists learn about the physical make-up of the world about us. These physics class-members will probably agree that it certainly helps to understand the world's physical make-up to insure an excellent portrayal of an inhabitant of the world.

It takes proper costuming to make any production complete. These young seamstresses try their hand at making costumes for their part in the play of 1952.

... punctuated by intermissions

The paper stop or activity center gave the students time to get out of the building to learn about another scene of the play.

Bookless centers, art sales, and other fund raisers were used. These sales help to build up the Junior class funds and finance the prom.

The teachers, our instructors in the various fields of the drama, take time out for lunch and an opportunity to chat together before they again resume their roles as leaders for the play

Even though these players seem to tire easily during rehearsal, they suddenly spring to life when a favorite record sounds forth in the girls' gym. Here they take time out for a spin around the floor

... to permit changes of scene

Another form of entertainment for the STS troupe brings wide-eyed wonder at the magic and mysteries surrounding this gentleman performer.

These young harmonizers gather around the piano and present their own musicale during the noon hour to anyone who appreciates good music.

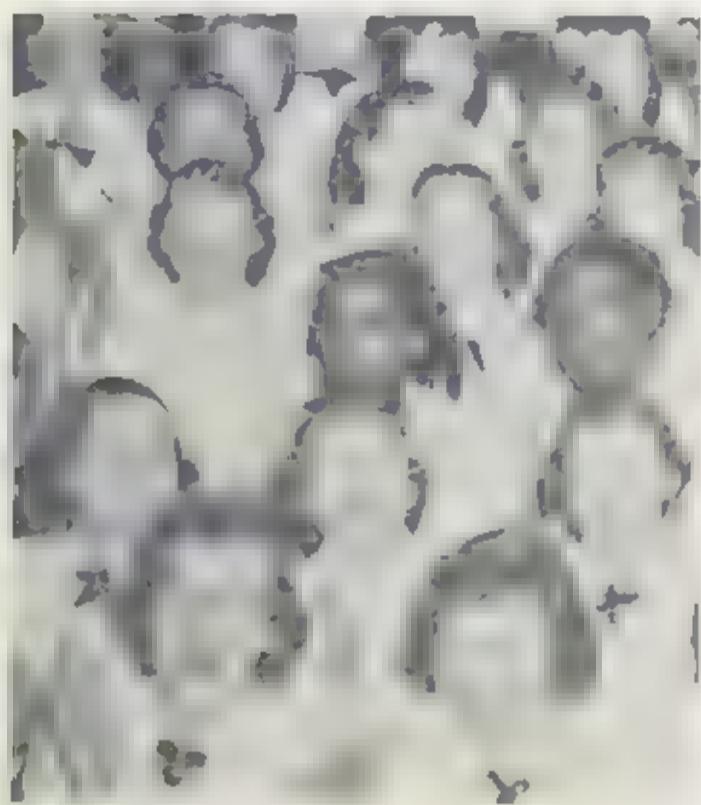

All the SHS performers can't participate in every activity. These loyal supporters, those who are unable to participate in this particular activity, cheer for those actually in the football game on the gridiron.

One very valuable contribution to the success of the football portion of the SHS production is the services rendered by the linemen. David Kelley, and Tom Taylor, SHS linemen, seem to be enjoying this part of the drama.

Each has his role, whether it's in center stage

These maids in the crisp yellow aprons take time out to watch the game and to cheer for their favorite team. Nothing like a good round of applause to boost the morale of these hardwood stars.

Was that last play in the nature of an ad lib or was it carefully timed? Whichever is the case, these hardwood stars seemed to have made it successful.

Cokes! Popcorn! Ice Cream!, are the selling cries of the concessionaires as they resound above the roar of the basketball crowd. These sales boosters quickly come to the rescue of the thirsty fans, and add more to the funds of the SHS senior production.

The pep sessions are the dress rehearsals before the opening night and send the stars before the toothlights keyed to give outstanding performances.

Or merely in the chorus

The group goes to a few districts to put the kicks in their bodies and to issue some still more strenuous task. They may be rather sore at a while, but these drummers know that these exercises will keep them trim and in shape for their performance.

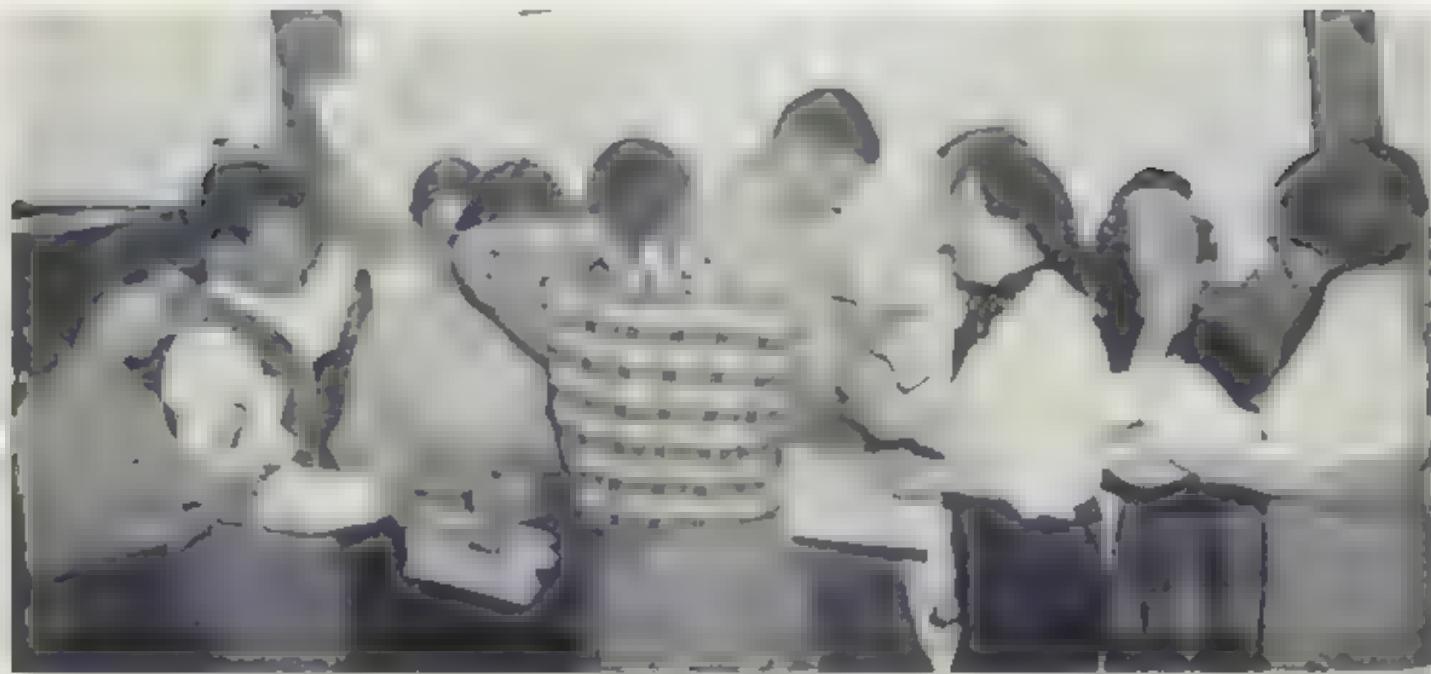

In an effort to safeguard the valuable lives of the SHS dramatists, the driving class offers instruction in driving safety practices. Students enrolled in this class use such equipment as the model cars shown in the picture to illustrate the proper way to drive.

A newcomer to the SHS stage is Jon Pickett, a student from Guntersville, Alabama. Mr. Swanson is helping him with his English so that he will be able to take an active part in the SHS production in the foreseeable future.

Supplying advance publicity,

Just as in the hustle-bustle of large newspaper production, these would-be journalists seem to be busy putting together the school newspaper. They report the activities of the SHS roster and furnish a good deal of publicity for the star performers.

The ants don't seem to be crashing in on this picnic. After consuming plenty of charred hot dogs, and plenty of singed marshmallows, a few moments of relaxation are welcome. These SHS starlets seem to know just how fun is made!

There's always a place for Taylor, the Sunshine Girl, to work. These girls are bringing sunshine into the SHS playhouse to help spread Christmas cheer.

Keeping the set in order,

These behind-the-scenes workers provide good wholesome food for the SHS troupe. The contribution of these ladies to the 1952 production is providing appetizing lunches to keep the actors well-fed and happy.

so that the SHS roster will be indirectly encouraged to do their best work. It makes for a better grade of production when the building in which a cast must work is clean and neat.

One of the high lights of the junior-senior years is the annual prom. On this night one of the most promising stars of the year is drawn into the limelight and crowned the Prom Queen.

As the students grow older they look forward to the time when they will be seniors, and will be the guests at the prom.

Or reigning as Queen.

Margie is one of the seven SHS actresses to achieve stardom during her four-year career as a high school dramatist. She lends her ability and service to many worthwhile activities connected with high school life. Like the other May Court girls, Margie is loved by the high school crowd for her friendship and sincerity. Marvin is acclaimed one of the best, and certainly one of the most handsome actors to set foot on the SHS stage.

After a steady climb to the top, Joan is terminating her high school career in one of the most honored positions to be desired by all SHS actresses. One of the more popular young ladies among the high school boys, Jim drew the bye for this occasion. Jim is one of the leading young men around the building, and a of the male roster of the senior class, he is our Lord Mayor for this festival. With all the makings of a promising writer, he has exercised his writing ability in many ways, as well as various contests, associated with high school life.

Linda, our editor-in-chief of the Squib, will long remember the young personality as well as the young person as they were in the year and preserve them, in pictures, in the Squib. Of course, it almost seems impossible to imagine Shelby High without Jim's hearty laugh and quick smile. For this and for many other reasons, we shall always remember him. Another remembrance is a piece of artwork done in the 1952 Squib.

The arch dancers usher in May Queen Sally Long, entering on the arm of Lord Mayor, Jim Lawrence. The May Queen and the Lord Mayor are fine examples of very promising stars. This moment is the climax in their high-school career and is one of those never-to-be-forgotten moments in the life of any young Miss or Mr.

Pat is another of our Shelby stars to receive top billing for her sensational character portrayals during her high school years. As she continues through life it seems probable that her lovable nature and individuality will continue to win awards of friendship. She's in the spotlight with her is none other than one of our hardwood heroes, Dave is a star in his own right and deserves a big hand for his fine work during his high school career, both on and off the basketball court.

Donna is another of our young attractions who has added much to the success of the 1952 stage production for SHS. Donna is listed among the favorites of her classmates and associates, and has reached a high degree of success during her high school years. Phil seems to be doing alright for himself in the field of personality, too. His friendly, retiring manner acts much like a magnet in drawing friends to him.

A favorite among the other performers, Shirley is a warm, friendly nature and a special unaffected type of personality that belongs to her alone. George has just such a touch of individuality that makes him stand out in a crowd, and accounts for his popularity among the other students. Both of these young performers have reached high standards in the field of high school-life dramas.

Queen Sally steps forward to receive a well-earned curtain call after a thrilling performance on the SHS stage. Sally's friendly manner and her helpfulness make her a welcome addition to any activity in which she might participate during her high school years. Jim is another one of our hardwood heroes to whom we are grateful for his part in the making of a successful hardwood season.

One of the newer additions to the SHS stage props supply is the communication system. Mr. Breck seems to have been caught in the act of broadcasting the daily extra-curricular schedule to the SHS roster.

The directors of the many phases of the SHS theater find relaxation and enjoyment at the annual faculty tea.

The Backers of Our Show

Mr. Loper not only aids SHS in every possible way, but also helps support a good many worthwhile projects attempted by the SHS students. As superintendent of city schools, he assists in guiding the educational system in the proper direction. Mr. Loper holds a MA degree from Indiana University, and a B.A. degree from Oakland City College. He also attended Ball State Teachers College.

As president of the school board, another of the important groups that are involved in the production of the show, Mr. DePrez makes sure that the system operates as smoothly as possible. Mr. DePrez will probably be the person to award diplomas to the graduating seniors at their graduation exercises, which will be their own grand finale. Mr. DePrez is a graduate of SHS.

As treasurer of the school board, Mr. Parker has charge of the money affairs connected with the SHS production for 1952. Because it takes money to put on any kind of a show, the budget and debt-paying must be taken care of in the most efficient manner possible if the show is to be a hit. Another time that Mr. Parker played a similar role was in 1920, the year of his graduation from SHS, when he was assistant business manager of the Squib.

Mr. Seoheld, the secretary of the school board, has the duty of keeping the records pertaining to the board meetings, actions, and decisions.

Technical Staff

Another member of the cast that does her part behind the scenes and the glamour of a floodlight is Mrs. Monfort, school board clerk, who takes care of the financial reports, transfers, and handles the general record keeping for the school system.

Another newcomer to the SHS scenes is Mrs. Kres. She aids Mrs. Monfort as assistant clerk and sees-

Mrs. Chambers, attendance officer, has the responsibility of checking the attendance and of helping to solve the many problems that sometimes keep actors from attending rehearsals regularly. Without regular rehearsing, a cast of players cannot even so much as hope to present a top show.

To do their best acting, the members of the cast must be in good health, free from all aches and pains. Mrs. Strut, one of the many persons involved in the production who is seldom in the limelight, received her nurse's training at the School of Nursing in Battle Creek, Michigan. She did field and graduate work in both Indiana and Michigan.

Mr. Fort supervises the testing program. Grading and evaluating the aptitude and achievement tests are the ways that he checks upon the progress of the cast of players for SHS in 1952. Mr. Fort holds a BS degree from Indiana State Teachers College.

Mr. Sipe, a newcomer to the SHS stage, is ready and willing to help each student to put his best foot forward by helping to correct any speech and hearing difficulties. A person who speaks well is a welcome addition to any performance. Mr. Sipe holds a BS degree from Bell State Teachers College.

The Directors

Mr. Breck, SHS principal, keeps the school system running smoothly. Like the director of a stage production, he sees to it that all students play their parts as well as they possibly can, and that the members of the cast are well suited to their roles. Mr. Breck graduated from Indiana University with a B.A. degree and returned to his studies in 1932 to obtain his M.A. degree.

Mr. Bass is in charge of the direction of the preliminary production, the Junior High School Plus production prepares the understudies for the time when they will enter high school and portray the parts of high school students. Mr. Bass holds a B.A. degree from Central Normal, a Master of Philosophy degree from the University of Wisconsin, and is the dean of boys at SHS.

Mrs. Simpson, the dean of girls, holds her share of responsibility as a behind-the-scenes advisor to the feminine SHS S. She is also in charge of the school's social activities.

Mrs. Simpson has a BA degree from Indiana University and has done graduate work at Purdue and Butler University and the Institute of Indiana Central Business College.

Hear strange music in the halls? That's the Singing Stars, Christmas caroling. Where there's music you'll find the Stars.

The girls sing at the school, at Green Assembly, at various church services, at many school as well as community activities.

These girls must memorize all music outside of class and receive no credits for their work.

Members join the Stars because of their desire for quality, builds up personal experience, the willingness and ability to work with others.

The girls would tell you it's lots of work but loads of fun and satisfaction.

These fellas who parades like only should get always lots of love from all of us. It's a cinch to see them cokes alter you get them poured, but you try keeping up with a hot, thirsty crowd.

No one could afford to get us to see all the girls we paid very little attention to shows, singing from a book was quite popular, but the "Hondos Show" and the like for the evenings were ordered in advance. Linda, Mark, "Doc", and "Boots" always had great difficulty with money coming in late and getting us down to our stations on time.

In spite of all this, it is good to go about and work at a project like this. So there is something to you.

It's likely to be the Squib Staff starting the battle of brains and brawn.

The editorial staff, faced with many problems, worked hard to get the Squib in circulation by May 19. With each person doing his share of the work the deadlines were met with ease. (?) The editing of the Squib is a combination of hard work and valuable experience, mixed with fun and enjoyable arguments.

The business staff is responsible for paying all the bills. They often wondered where the next penny would come from, and whether the Squib would have a cover, but eventually subscription money, advertising income, and concession profits added up enough to finance the 1952 Squib, cover and all.

The Sunshine Society is made up of girls from all four classes. Their colors—yellow for service and white for purity—were used in the decorations at the Christmas games. The Freshmen sold "Golden Bears" beamies and gave money to the Sophomores who made the decorations. The Juniors sold candy, and the Seniors sold candy and more candy. The leaders were Miss Durrenberger and Miss Swanson. These groups also gave Christmas baskets from the money they earned.

Mrs. Norman helped the Freshmen off to a good start with the "Golden Bears" beamies they sold at the games. Some girls at the games said, "I worked in the Sunshine Society this year."

What would they do without them?

"They" are Goldie and Mr. Bass. "Them" are those girls who do everything from sharpening pencils to tracking down students.

Every period of the day there is at least one girl in both the senior and junior offices. They are Commercial students who want to gain experience in office work. Though it is often trying, the girls wouldn't trade places with anyone. (Or would they?)

The organization is composed of approximately forty-five girls who are interested in sports. The weekly meetings are supplemented by picnics, initiations, and parties during the school year.

A girl may receive a letter award in her junior year, and if outstanding, may receive a state award in her senior year. The state award is given to outstanding girls, who earn extra points.

A huge, charging line, a fleet backfield, experience and fight were the ingredients of the 1951 gridiron. The record of four won, four lost was not a real indication of their power.

The 1951 Bears had a solid line, a fleet backfield, a bulldog defense that marked them as one of the best teams in the tough South Central Conference.

Stocky Jim Mewborn, the conference's leading scorer, teamed up with Jim Plymate to grid out the lion's share of the Bears' astronomical yardage.

Mewborn, who was voted most valuable player in the conference, was the top scorer in the state with 100 points.

Big Jim Arbuckle and Maurice Hart were the main backs in the line that included giants like Bob Moore, Karl Briley, Frank Watson, and Jim Emmert, together with ends Dan Tomasson and John McLeod and little Bumpy Brown at center.

Seniors Steve Davis and Gordon Potter rounded out the Bear backfield.

The power and surge of these Bears will be remembered by us for many years to come.

"B" and Freshman Football

The acquiring of the fundamental skills of football and the winning spirit of the game by the under-classmen is the purpose of Reserve and Freshman squads.

Only one in a hundred gridmen go into varsity fire without experience on our "B" or Freshmen teams, which serve as the furnaces to produce varsity material.

The "B" team this year won one game, led one and lost two.

The first year men formed a powerful team, unbeaten and unscorched in their two games. On the basis of these records, students at Shelbyville can expect winning squads in the future.

The second half of the year was a period of great activity. The Tech crew had to go to the top of the mountain to keep track of the bulldozer and the bulldozer was to the school. The Tech crew was to the Bulldogs, Hawks, and Cubs who once more felt the tipping claws of the Golden Bears.

There was no snow at the start of the season. The snow never really got to White Center being hit by a blizzard. Most of the snow was tops using a chainsaw. However, there was a day or two where it did come. All trees were cut with slender margins.

Second time around the snow started coming in. Bear Lake I took a very bad one. They were hit by the snow. They were hit by the snow with blood on their claws and desire in their hearts.

Second time the bear was down. It is up to the second place now known whom that includes) in local net history.

Hudson's Bay kept its spades away from the top of the mountain. Maps however showed the spade on the hill. It was known to the back country skier that either Jim Taylor and Jim Plymate was all important.

Additional local substitutes like Norman D. Johnson, Bass Stevens, and other boys helped spring the door of the cave of hibernation.

So the game stayed around the road. On Saturday two strong parties. Midway and little Union Twp. were the victims of this avalanche.

Following Saturday state competition high altitude peaks. Rodesville was crisscrossed by eight fierce and aggressive seeing outgoers by the park rangers of Pine Kelly.

But that didn't occur until after the Tech crew had the following week and they were defeated by a great Tech crew.

1952 was a basket ball season rivaled by few previous ones. The year was school spirit and great basketball.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Freshman basketball has grown into a "little conference", with the Fresh playing members of other South Central Conference teams. This year's group of yearlings had a 5 won-4 lost record.

Seventeen boys composed Coach Day's team this year, this large number was carried to prevent overlooking Varsity prospects.

John McNew, John Reece, and Jim Deupree were the mainstays of the team, but practically all of the boys showed potential Varsity ability.

Kiwanis Award

The highest honor of this year's football squad was given to senior tackle Maurice Hart. Big "Hearty" received the award on the basis of ability and leadership.

Known for his drive and spirit at the post, Maurice received conference recognitions for his play.

Besides his ability, Maurice also displayed leadership at school, participating in practically all activities and compiling a high scholastic rating.

Another hefty tackle, Jim Arbuckle, received the honorary Captain's star.

Paul Cross Award

Rev. S. J. Cross presented the 33rd Paul Cross Award to Dave Kelley, senior center, at the Annual Award Day Program. The award came as little surprise to the student body. Dave being the logical choice for this year's best of basketball awards.

The lanky pivotman will be long remembered for his looping hook-shots and fiery rebounds. Kelley, the team's leading scorer, was held in high esteem by the experts who covered the Semi-Final tourneys. He was ranked as the second high scorer in the State during the semi-final action.

A three-letter man in both basketball and track, together with all his fine performances, Dave typifies the ideals of the award.

Golf and Tennis

Last year Shelby was represented by Norman Poe and Bill Mann in the tennis singles, and Dave Kelley and Jim Biss in the doubles.

The team, coached by Mr. Clay, tied for first place in the South Central Conference. Mann was defeated in his first match while Poe went to the semi-finals before being eliminated.

Kelley and Biss won the doubles for Shelby. It was the first year that Shelbyville had a tennis team.

Kenneth Ewick was also a member of the team but did not participate in the meet.

Jon Plymire, Tom Taylor, Dave Kelley, and Jerry Higgins represented Shelbyville in the 1951 South Central Conference golf tournament held at Seymour. Shelbyville finished fourth in the meet. Plymire was low for the team with a 79. Taylor scored 80, Higgins 81 and Kelley 89.

Three boys are back from the team and with the experience they should be right up there top next year.

Mac McClain was the fifth boy for Shelbyville and he, too, will be back for next year.

Playing one of the most extended seasons in years, the ruined diamond — finished the year with four victories in eleven starts, including a four and four mark in — renewals.

Although hampered by weak pitching, the Bears always had a strong attack that produced many runs and constantly represented a threat to the opponent.

Bill Price received the batting crown, nosing out Jim Hebbe and Maurice Hart for the title.

In spite of many handicaps, the Shelbyville track squad of 1951 still managed to come up with a fair amount of success. Without a real track and with but a comparative handful of athletes the Bears outscored its rivals in one of the four regular meets, placed 4th in the South Central Conference, and scored heavily in the sectional.

Stand-out trackmen were Steve Davis, fleet quarter-miler, who placed fast in both Conference and Sectional meets and teamed with Plymate, Kelley, and Brandenburg to win the Conference mile relay title.

Mewborn also placed in both Conference and Sectional. Kester and Hayes also were leaders for the Bears.
